| Weekly status: |
| This past week we spent a lot of time writing and preparing the midterm proposal. During this writing, we started thinking more about the reality of the project and how to achieve our goal. Due to midterms we did not have team meeting, but we will do that this week to further discuss our project. During the writing of the proposal, we started determining a timeline for the project. We are going to start with some basic hardware design for the board as well as work on writing a small software simulation of the program to test our algorithms. |
